

Project Feedback Form

The goal of this activity to help you learn how to judge the quality of websites, so that you apply what you learn on your own project.

As indicated in the project description, each group will evaluate 2 other projects in the class. Your comments should be fair and precise and given only after spending an appropriate time on the sites you are judging. The feedback collected here will not affect the grade of the reviewed projects.

Your group will collectively decide on the ratings and feedback. Make sure you share your comments on a certain project only with the team members of that project. Here you will submit all your comments to me. A single submission per groups is needed (done by the team leader).

The followings pertain to your own group.

Group #: 11

Group Members: Mark Vasfeld

Please fill the following entries with information about projects your group is reviewing.

For the following few items, please give a number from 1 – 10 (1: lowest, 10: highest) to rate your experience. Justify each entry in no more than 2 lines.

The site is easily accessible: 10 - no issues when clicking the link

The site is well designed: 10 - the theme flows very nicely and all features seem to have been planned or already working.

The site is creative and promising: 10 - looks exactly like what I picture a bookstore website(cool library feel)

The site is appropriate for the intended audience? 10 - like I said, very fitting site for a bookstore

In more than 3 lines, answer the following questions.

What is the thing you liked the most about the site?

I think what I like most about this site is the global page. On this page, you will showcase the books of all the eventual users and I think it is a great idea. Not only is it a great idea, but the form setup to search through these books is a great idea.

If you were to make a change, what would that be? Why?

If I were to make a change I would say maybe make the size of the header and footer a little bit smaller. Especially when scrolling down to footer, I feel like it used a bit too much space. Other than that, I can't really think of any other changes! Great work!

For the following few items, please give a number from 1 – 10 (1: lowest, 10: highest) to rate your experience. Justify each entry in no more than 2 lines.

The site is easily accessible: 9 -Every thing works on the site as expected(all the button clicking) except there is a sight delay on canceling within the forms which may be a slight issue.

The site is well designed: 10 - I think the site is very well-designed and very user-friendly. Not too many words, and it is very appealing to the eye.

The site is creative and promising: 10 - Like I mentioned, I think the theme and layout of the pages seem to flow very nicely. It looks like a website I've already used, it looks professional!

The site is appropriate for the intended audience? 9 - The site seems to be intended for book lovers, and maybe it's a little to simple in that sense, that it's more open space and pictures, however I think it works great!

What is the thing you liked the most about the site?

I think what I like most about this site is Books tab where you guys have listed individual cards for the eventual books. I think the layout already looks great and will work really well once the books are inputted. It seems very organized and perfect for the intended audience.

If you were to make a change, what would that be? Why?

I think if I were to make a change, I would try and include some more things in the nav bar like an About me, or top current books, just to fill out the page a little more. I think what is already setup is great, but of course the more info on books couldn't hurt. Overall, great site and great job!
